O'Neill and Lewis Give Their Opinions; No
Picketing Reported

Pittsburgh, April 2 (AP)—The nation's soft coal miners, who have invoked their "no contract, no work" principle, apparently settled down today to a period of waiting until the leaders of the industry and the A.F.L.-United Mine Workers can agree on collective bargaining terms.

Nobody could say how long it would take.

The union's contract expired Sunday midnight and the work stoppage by nearly 400,000 began yesterday in holiday mood, the occasion being the miners' traditional annual celebration in honor of one-time President John Mitchell and their president of today, John L. Lewis. The miners paraded and heard speeches in some communities.

Negotiations looking toward the new contract continued in Washington tonight, the chief stumbling block was the dispute over Lewis' demand for a health and welfare fund to be paid for in tonnage royalties by the operators and be administered by the union.

The government's special mediator, Paul Fuller, sat in on the conferences between miner and operator representatives.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, said there was "no progress of any kind. We are exactly where we have been for weeks."

Lewis commented: "We found the operators in their usual mood, declining to do anything. I think we passed a motion to reconvene at 9:30 a. m. When we inquired why, they were a little vague about it."

There were no reports from the strike field of any picketing. Apparently the miners took President Lewis at his word when he told them just to go home and rest.

Minor supervisory workers, members of the United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory workers, an affiliate of U.M.W. District 50, continued to report for duty, carrying out instructions from their president, John McAlpine of Pittsburgh, who notified them they were to carry on "until further notice."

Only hint of possible trouble in the coal fields came from West Virginia where U.M.W. representative B. H. Jenkins told an audience of miners at Welch that an unidentified company planned to operate despite the union's "no work" directive.

Officials declared: "The United Mine Workers will be responsible for what happens if that company attempts to operate."

George J. Tiller, U.M.W. district president, told the same rally that the question of the length of the strike, "will be answered by the operators when they agree to take care of the union's health and welfare program, reduce working hours and grant 'a substantial increase' in pay."

Local operators had offered the miners a pay raise of about 18 cents an hour but Lewis had rejected the offer until operators agreed to answer on the health and welfare fund, which heads the nine contract proposals submitted by the union.

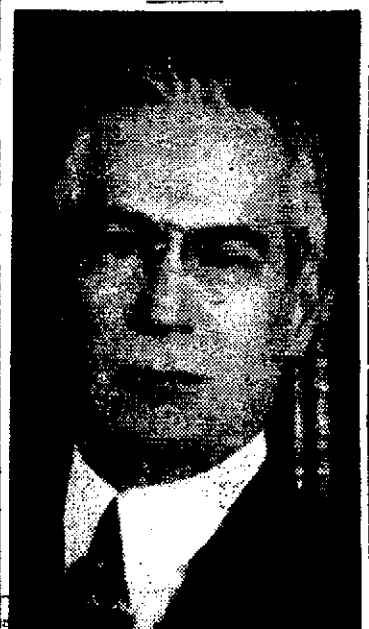

One of the other demands was recognition of the United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Workers' Union last year also but dropped during negotiations.

Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals John T. Loughran has been elected by the Lions Club as Kingston's outstanding citizen for 1946.

Announcement of Judge Loughran's selection for the third annual Achievement Award of the Lions Club was made at the regular meeting of the club today at the Governor Clinton.

One of the nation's best known jurists, Judge Loughran was the unanimous choice of the Lions. Chairman Walter Donnaruma of the nominating committee, said in announcing the result of the balloting. Five names were submitted but Judge Loughran received unanimous approval of the club members.

Judge Loughran, who follows Major General Fred L. Anderson and Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb as recipient of the coveted distinction was cited for "good citizenship, service to community and honor and distinction brought to the community through his work."

Members of the nominating committee, in addition to Mr. Donnaruma, were Roger Baer, Bert Bishop, Manuel Reina, Frank Macleod and Ernest J. DuBois.

Judge Loughran will receive the Achievement Award at the Lions annual meeting, tentatively set for the latter part of May. The Lions Club is seeking to bring to Kingston a member of the United States Supreme Court to make the award to Judge Loughran.

The crux of the furious negotiations centers around overtures the C.I.O. is reported to have made to a prominent Kingston A.F.L. labor figure.

Stassen Will Work With Reece on Year's Fight for Congress

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen sounded a discordant note today in Republican praises for the G.O.P. National Committee's choice of Rep. Carroll Reece of Tennessee as the party's new chairman.

Stassen, who is almost avowedly in the race for the 1948 presidential nomination, declared it is "well known that I do not approve of Chairman Reece's stand on many issues in the past."

The former Minnesota governor's statement left little doubt about his disappointment over the committee's action in naming Reece, a close political associate of Senator Robert Taft and former Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, over two other candidates. Reece succeeds Herbert E. Brownell, who was appointed to devote full time to his New York law practice.

With the almost solid backing of southern state Republicans, plus some such veterans of G.O.P. political battles as Werner Schroeder of Illinois, Reece won on the third ballot in a torrid committee session.

The 56-year-old Tennessean, a veteran of nearly 25 years of congressional service, told delegates at a victory dinner last night he realizes the national chairman "cannot make the Republican party or determine its destinies."

It was the same point made by Stassen who said he did not believe Reece's selection "constitutes a declaration by the Republican party as to its policy or platform."

Stassen said significantly he was prepared to cooperate with Reece in this year's congressional elections. He did not go further than that.

"Of course," Stassen said, "it is well known that I do not approve of Chairman Reece's stand on many issues in the past."

The former Minnesota governor declined to amplify his remarks, but it was apparent he considered Reece's congressional record on international issues open to question.

Reece's forces, headed by Walter Hallahan, West Virginia committee man, defeated former Senator John A. Danaher of Connecticut, generally regarded as the choice of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Danaher and John W. Hanes, a North Carolina Democrat-turned-Republican, at one point on the second ballot pulled down a total of 53 votes, enough for election had it been amassed by one individual.

The choice of Reece promptly was approved by Danaher, whose $20,000 a year job as liaison man between the national committee and minority members of Congress may continue. Hanes was not present to state his views.

Members returned Hallahan, who had been shunted aside at Dewey's request in 1934 to the executive committee. And as chairman of that group they elected Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a half-way candidate for the chairmanship who nominated Reece.

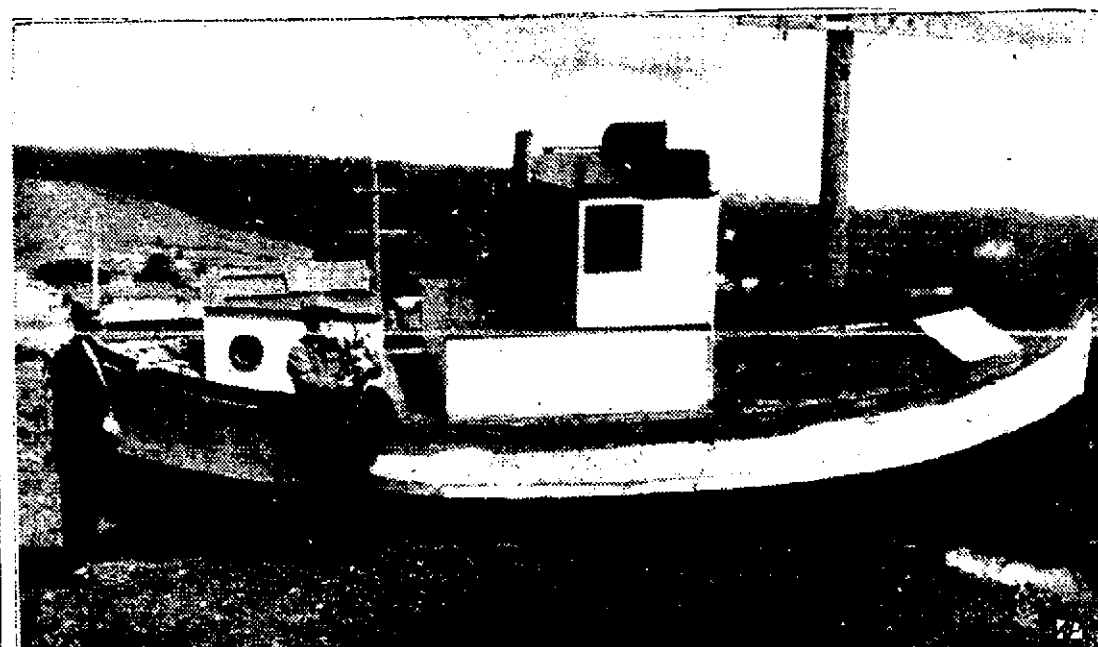

The Tennessean, credited by friends as an adroit politician, expects to serve as full-time chairman without pay. He said he will resign his Congress seat to take over immediately. That will leave this lineup in the House: 239 Democrats, 190 Republicans, two minor party members and four vacancies.

Will Reopen Hearings

Bogert Says Wiltwyck Fears Of Thruway Encroachment Are Only Speculation Now

Weather Has Not Affected Fruit

At Least That Is Early

Consensus Despite
Cold and Storm

Although the Weather Man threw the whole book at this area Monday afternoon and evening—rain, snow, a heavy fall of sleet and hail, with sharp thunder and lightning during the evening—it turned warmer later and it is a question whether any great amount of damage was done to fruit crop prospects, Farm Bureau Agent Albert Kurdt said this morning.

There was more reason to fear damage from the cold weather, Saturday night, when a reading as low as 21 was reported by one fruit grower from Ardona. However, so far as reported, it does not appear the buds have been affected seriously, although they had reached the "green tip" stage about a week ago. It may be that some of the earlier and more advanced buds tips may turn brown later.

Fruit men have been apprehensive as the weather during March continued to show a close approach to that of the abnormal weather in March last year. In fact, Mr. Kurdt said this morning, apple trees were on Saturday in almost the same advanced state that they were a year ago that year.

Growers have their fingers crossed, however, as they remember that it was in mid-April that the final blow came that resulted in an Ulster county apple crop of around 700,000 bushels, whereas the harvest should have been three million bushels or more.

With the trees some three weeks ahead of normal last year, apples were in blossom by April 14. It was during this period, before fruit as a rule had set, that freezing weather came. Blossom petals were frozen and turned brown and the result was about 20 per cent crop of apples in the county as a whole, some more favorably situated orchards coming through better than the average.

Conditions today being approximately the same as last year, for this date, growers hope for a period of cool weather that will help back the buds. More days of warm weather, such as prevailed the latter part of March, with low temperatures prevailing later and a repetition of the disastrous experience of 1935 is feared.

When the weather turned cold Saturday, some southern Ulster growers tried the experiment of starting fires at points around their orchards, with the hope that they might have the effect of moderating the temperature. One grower used oil to secure the hoped for effect.

Officials of Golf Club Are Afraid Existing Facilities Would Be Hurt

Reports that the proposed super-highway through Ulster county would seriously impair existing facilities at the Wiltwyck Golf Club were described unofficially as "pure speculation" yesterday by D. V. Z. Bogert, district engineer of the New York State Department of Highways.

In reply to a series of questions submitted to him by a Freeman reporter, Mr. Bogert said that plans concerning the highway were still at an indefinite stage. "It is impossible to determine at the present time to what extent the Wiltwyck golf course or any other landmark in the area will be affected by the new road," he said. "The blueprints are subject to constant revision and any statement regarding Wiltwyck at this stage would represent nothing more than pure speculation."

Season Intensifies Rumors
The long existing rumors concerning the Wiltwyck golf course have been intensified with the advent of a new season. Wiltwyck officials themselves have expressed some concern over the reports, but in the absence of definite information from the State Highway Department are proceeding with plans for a busy season.

A prominent Wiltwyck official, Dwight McEntee, Sr., said that one hole, the No. 8, would be eliminated when the road is completed. Other reports have placed the number of holes affected at three.

"In any event," Mr. McEntee said, "we are going ahead with plans for the biggest season in our history. If the new road takes up any of the holes, we'll rebuild or get around it somehow. You know there are quite a few golf courses in the country where you have to cross a road from one hole to another."

Council Will Get Opposition Letter To Parking Meters

Union Spokesman Says
Commerce Vote Does
Not Reflect True
Picture of Issue

There will be opposition to the proposed parking meter system uptown at the Common Council meeting tonight, according to a union representative, who said a letter would be read to the aldermen urging that they reject the plan.

The spokesman, who chose to remain unidentified, said the recent poll by mail conducted through the Chamber of Commerce was not a true representation of the sentiment on the part of merchants and others interested in the uptown business district.

It was brought out in his conversation with a reporter that the 3-1 vote in favor of the meters did not reflect the feeling of all concerned.

"What about the big merchandising houses that had more than one vote because of several memberships in the Chamber in comparison to the little merchant who was allowed to cast only one?" he asked.

Other Questions
Other questions were: What about the sentiments of those who do their shopping uptown?

Why shouldn't merchants in other sections of the city vote in favor of the meters, when their installation would tend to drive shoppers to different localities to shop to avoid paying a parking charge?

In short, the union spokesman was of the opinion that parking meters would cut into the volume of business done in what is regarded as the main shopping district.

What Kingston needs is to promote trade and not drive it away was his contention.

"The fact that uptown merchants relinquished the parking lot in back of the court house, brings out that the situation needs attention," he said. "Only for the Ulster County Board of Super-

Giant Swells Hit 400-500 Mile Speed

Submarine Earthquake Causes Huge Waves Which Hit Mainly in Hawaii

Losses Are Great

Property, Food, Other Things Crushed by Water

Hilo, Hawaii, April 2 (AP)—The death toll in the Eastern Pacific's worst seismic wave disaster reached 93 today and a naval officer estimated the loss of life in Hilo—chief victim of the boiling seas—might total 300.

Damage ran into the millions of dollars.

A submarine earthquake which geologists called world-shaking sent giant swells fanning out from the North Pacific at 400 to 500 miles an hour early yesterday.

Beaches on Hawaii, the Aleutians and California were lashed by 10 to 100-foot waves.

The death toll: Hawaiian Islands—60 bodies recovered at Hilo; nine on Oahu, seven on Maui and six on Kauai Islands.

Unimak, the Aleutians—Ten men swept to sea from the Scotch Cap lighthouse.

California—One man swept to sea from the Santa Cruz beach.

Many were missing in Hilo and in rural Laupahoehoe, but the number was not known.

At Honolulu, William W. Monahan, chairman of the Hawaii Red Cross, estimated that not more than 4,000 refugees asked for shelter in all of the Hawaiian islands. Of these, 1,800 were on Oahu and 800 on Hawaii Island.

Robert Lindner, chairman of Red Cross disaster relief here, said 60 bodies had been recovered from wreckage in Hilo and "I expect there will be more."

Territorial Gov. Ingram Stainback invoked the Hawaiian Defense Act "for the safeguarding of life and property and the preservation of law and order" in wave-ravaged areas.

Casualty reports appeared to be complete from all damaged areas except the island of Hawaii, on which Hilo with its 25,000 population is located.

There was some hope that Hilo's death toll might not reach the naval officer's 300 estimate. A score of persons previously reported missing had been saved from the waters off Hawaii by Army and Navy air-sea rescue planes and small surface craft.

One, a 21-year-old teacher, Miss Marsue McGinnis, was rescued after eight hours in the water.

Recurrence Feared
There was hope also that the waves might not recur today, as feared for a time last night.

The commander of the Alaska sea frontier, at Seattle, emphatically denied as "grossly exaggerated" reports that a 100-foot tidal wave was rushing along the Aleutian Island chain toward Kodiak. He added that no new wave was forecast.

Hawaiians "dared not estimate the damage, except in the millions of dollars," Herbert C. Shipman, Hilo sugar planter, said $700,000 worth of raw sugar was swept into the ocean with destruction of territorial wharfs.

Tens of thousands of dollars worth of food in warehouses was destroyed.

It was estimated that Hilo had only four days food available. To conserve the supply, residents were limited to the purchase of $2 worth of food at one time.

The Army flew 30 tons of food to Hilo from Honolulu last night and will fly additional supplies today. There was no request for medicines.

Fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor reported there was no loss of Navy personnel or any damage to major installations in the Mid-Pacific area, including Palmyra, Canton and Johnston Islands. It said some personnel suffered minor injuries.

Iranian Crisis To Hit New Stage At U. N. O. Session

Byrnes Is Said to Have Truman's Assurance of Support Over Red Stand

New York, April 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes turned back today toward United Nations headquarters today from a White House conference believed to have given him renewed assurance of President Truman's vigorous support in grappling tomorrow with developments in the Iranian crisis. Expectation among top diplomats here is that these developments, even though they may include a message from Russia replying to Security Council inquiries about Iran, probably will not break the crisis but merely advance it to a new stage.

This is based on the belief, privately expressed by these authorities, that Iran's demands upon the council very likely will not be substantially changed by Premier Ahmed Qavam in his reply to the same inquiries. Qavam yesterday Lie a note reaffirming the position of Ambassador Husein Ali as his fully authorized spokesman here.

Senate Wants Vets To Get Preference

Bill on Civil Service Is Passed, Sent to Assembly

Trenton, N. J., April 2 (AP)—Veterans would get top place on all state civil service lists according to a bill passed yesterday by the State Senate and sent to the Assembly.

The measure introduced by Senator Alfred B. Littell (R-Sussex), also defines the term veteran as those who served in World War I or in the "army or navy of the United States in World War 2" between September 1, 1939, and September 2, 1945, and who "has or shall be discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable."

Called the "first fruit" of the Legislative Veterans Commission by Littell, the bill provides top spot on civil service eligibility lists for disabled veterans and second place for non-disabled veterans taking examinations.

Another veterans bill, passed yesterday by the Senate and now waiting signature of Gov. Walter E. Edge, would grant special pardons to parolees who have received honorable discharges from the armed forces.

Hudson Steel Strike Settled on Monday

Hudson, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—A strike of 200 C.I.O. steelworkers against the Gifford Wood Company had ended today.

Settlement of the six-week old dispute was announced yesterday by State Mediator Stephen C. Davis who said members of Local 3487, United Steelworkers of America, had agreed to accept an 18 1/2-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The agreement also included a 9 1/2-cent-an-hour increase, retroactive to January 1.

Legislation Is Asked

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A spokesman for the nation's merchants asked Congress today to legislate "in black and white" O.P.A.'s liberalized policy of raising prices to stimulate production.

Retail merchants say that the index of wholesale prices will probably have to rise certainly by 15 per cent, perhaps by 18 1/2 per cent, if the blockade (against greater production) is to be lifted," said David R. Craig, research director of the American Retailers Federation.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 2 (AP)—Individual stocks exhibited a fair amount of strength in today's market while many leaders continued to loaf at slightly lower levels.

Buyers still were cautious, brokers said, because of apprehension over the effects on industry of a prolonged coal strike and chances of further rifts developing in the U.N.O. Council. Dividends, earnings, actual and potential splits, together with the persistent pressure of idle funds for employment, served as bullish props. Most utilities slipped following Monday's flurry on the holding company "death sentence" decree.

The pace slowed appreciably after a moderately active opening and irregularity ruled near the fourth hour.

Bonds were uneven and commodities higher.

Soviet Scientists Busy Studying Atomic Energy

Moscow, April 2 (AP)—Academician V. Fesenko, writing in Izvestia, said today that Soviet astronomers are busy studying atomic energy in the cosmos from new and reconstructed observatories equipped with the newest instruments and apparatus.

Astronomers recently have discovered indications that atomic energy is released not only from within the depths of the sun but also from close to its surface, the article in the government newspaper said.

The Semiezh Observatory, in the Crimea, discovered before the war that the sun and stars shine because specific reactions occur between different elements in their interior which give off atomic energy, Fesenko said.

News Distributors Are On Strike in Shanghai

Shanghai, April 2 (AP)—The strikes which have been sweeping Shanghai for the last two months struck today at three of the world's great press services, forcing them to suspend distribution of their news report to both foreign and Chinese newspapers in Shanghai.

The associations involved were The Associated Press, The United Press and Reuters News Agency. The suspension of the news report was brought about by strike of the Chinese delivery staffs, who demanded their 1941 basic salary of $4260 (Chinese national currency) per month, multiplied by the municipal cost of living index figure of 82.75 (CNC). The increase would boost the pay of the co-ops to slightly more than $60 (U.S.) from $25 (U.S.). The pre-war average was about $7 (U.S.).

Managers of the three news agencies, Walter Rundle of United Press, Fred C. Brown of Reuters and Fred Hampson of The Associated Press said, it was impossible to meet the demands of the delivery workers in fairness to radio, translation and editorial workers, whose pay, if raised proportionately, would make the entire operation economically impossible.

Five Arrested in Theft Of O.P.A. Sugar Stamps

New York, April 2 (AP)—Five men, including three government guards, were under arrest today charged with stealing 2,000,000 sugar stamps from the O.P.A. Verification Center. U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery said the couple were worth $600,000 to black market operators.

The arrests, McGohery added, were the most important made in the United States since the beginning of sugar rationing two years ago.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Mitchell identified the men, all negroes, as Theodore Chambers, Clarence E. Rhett, William Penneyser, Kenneth Smith and Robert Gaston, the last three guards. Each was held in $10,000 bail. Chambers had $1,000 in cash in his possession when arrested, Mitchell said.

Taft Walks Out

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-O) stalked angrily from a Senate committee hearing today after Committee Chairman Murray (D-Mont) threatened to have him ejected. The row broke out and quickly reached the shouting stage as the Senate Labor Committee began consideration of legislation to set up a national compulsory health insurance plan.

Taft broke into a statement by Murray to assert that the bill was "the most Socialist one Congress ever had before it." In the exchange, Murray told Taft: "I want you to subsidize, to ship up or I'll have the officers called and put you out of this committee room."

Dewey Extends Mortgage Bill Until July, '47

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—Governor Dewey signed without comment today bills extending the state's 13-year-old mortgage moratorium until July 1, 1947.

Dewey also signed a measure permitting localities to offer limited tax exemptions and abatements on real property to encourage renovation of residential housing, calling it "one of my recommendations for alleviating the housing shortage."

Vetoed were bills which would have permitted Westchester county to settle, compromise or cancel tax liens four years or more old, and authorize the motor vehicle commissioner to issue permanent license plates with replaceable date tags.

In rejecting the Westchester bill, Dewey cited a memorandum from Tax Commissioner Alger B. Chapman which said that the measure "has the effect of penalizing those who pay their taxes promptly," and upheld the present provision permitting counties to compromise unpaid taxes only when the total exceeds the property's assessed valuation.

The mortgage moratorium bans foreclosures against real property and continues the three per cent amortization requirement. It was passed originally in 1933 and has been renewed annually since that time.

The real property tax exemption measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Justin C. Morgan, Kenmore Republican, permits localities to establish their own conditions under which exemption may be extended. Dewey asserted that local governing bodies thus could vary the new law "to meet local conditions and changing circumstances."

Dewey also signed bills which will:

Permit public housing authorities to pay the cost of relocating families displaced by housing projects up to $100 each. (A similar bill, but without a limit, was vetoed.)

Permit women over 21 to work until midnight in multiple shift factories, instead of until 10 p. m.

Extend Workmen's Compensation to domestic servants employed 48 hours a week by one family in cities of more than 40,000.

Increase maximum Workmen's Compensation benefits from $25 to $28 a week and minimum benefits from $8 to $12 a week.

Appropriate $10,000,000 for grade crossing elimination.

State Surplus Larger Than Dewey Anticipated

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—New York state had entered a new fiscal year today with a general fund surplus of $187,764,189 that Governor Dewey's office said had been earmarked for "rebuilding state services."

The surplus, reported in a note to the governor from Comptroller Frank C. Moore, was about $100,000 more than Dewey estimated in his budget message January 31.

The new fiscal year started yesterday. Total revenues for the past fiscal year were $559,578,762 and operating expenses were $371,714,573.

Ulster Marines Make Plans at Meeting

The rain, hail, sleet, thunder and lightning was no barrier to the meeting of the Ulster Marine Corps League, Monday night, when a representative number turned out to talk over plans for the future. Seated from left in the Freeman photo are Richard Waltman, James W. Cave, Sgt. Pat Colbert, who enlisted, and Albert Melville; standing, in the same order, Robert Winne, Elwood Brower, John H. Among business last night was the election of Ray Mayone of Cedar street to replace Michael Sottile. Paul Bonesteel was elevated to senior vice commandant and Valmore F. Carpenter of West camp was chosen to serve as junior vice commandant.

A resolution was adopted favoring the Wicks-Hatfield bill to erect the Rhinecliff-Kingston bridge and a copy is to be sent to Governor Dewey urging that he sign it.

The Marine League is desirous of signing all marines from Ulster county who served in the corps at any time during war or peace and all others who saw service under marine commanders, regardless of the armed force branches with which they were connected.

Women who served with the marines are eligible to join, too, and are invited to sign up. A special meeting of the Ulster League will be held in the American Legion Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, Monday night, April 15, at 8 o'clock. ## Dead Army Pilots Found in Wreck At Mountain Base

Died Instantly in Crash Last January It Is Believed; Officers Probing Cause

The bodies of two army pilots missing since early January were found amid the wreckage of their bi-motored C-45 transport plane yesterday on the foot of the Denham mountain range by a search mission from Stewart Field air base.

The flyers who are believed to have died instantly when their plane crashed in the 3,000-foot mountain on January 6 are First Lt. Philip A. Dittman, 30, of Cranston, Pa., and another pilot whose name is being withheld until next of kin have been notified.

Their bodies were taken to a Highland Falls undertaker in preparation for shipment to their homes.

Although missing since January the wreck was first spotted Sunday by a civilian pilot from the Monticello airport and it was apparent that heavy snow blanketed the wreck and prevented earlier discovery. There was still snow yesterday as the craft mission under the direction of Captain H. W. Woodson, Stewart Field flying safety officer, reached the scene.

The Stewart Field party and New York State police officers began the trek up the steep mountain as an L-5 airplane piloted by First Lt. Robert H. Walker circled the scene to guide the searchers.

The wrecked C-45 had flown out of the Bedford Army Field, Boston, Mass., early in January. A qualified board of army officers has been appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

Veterans Group Makes Memorial Day Plans for City

Various Directors Are Chosen to Arrange for Parade, Other Activities

The Kingston Veterans Association met last evening to make arrangements for the annual observance of Memorial Day. Roswell Coles, chairman of the Association, presided.

This year the office parade chairman goes to the American Legion and they unanimously selected Harold V. Clayton, World War 2 veteran, as chairman of the parade activities. The Association also unanimously selected Chief Joseph L. Murphy as grand marshal of the parade.

The usual Sunday afternoon services over the water edge in memory of those who have died at sea, will be held on May 26 under supervision of Auxiliary 53, of Tappan Camp, No. 1. The services in the Municipal Auditorium will be held that same evening. James M. Krom is chairman of the arrangements for this memorial service. John Melville is chairman of the radio committee.

Roswell Coles, chairman of the Association and a member of the Colonial Camp, Spanish War Veterans, stated that he was highly pleased with the co-operation which he was receiving from the various organizations in the Association.

The annual parade will be held on Memorial Day, May 30, with the formation at 1:30 o'clock and the parade will get under way promptly at 2 o'clock over usual line of march. It is anticipated that the parade will be one of the largest ever held in Kingston on Memorial Day. Many veterans of World War 2 will be in line for the first time and there will be a division specially for veterans of World War 2, who are not affiliated with any veterans organization. Among the new organizations in line will be the recently formed Marine's Organization.

Jeffries Rejects Offer, Detroit Is Still Hit by Strike

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—Mayor Edward J. Jeffries today rejected a "compromise offer" to end the shutdown of the city's transit system and a brief conference with a high union official ended with no progress reported.

No further negotiations were scheduled. The offer was made by James Hoffa, business agent for the A.F.L. Teamsters Union, who was called in by union leaders as the strike went into its second day.

Hoffa proposed that the city grant the striking bus and street car operators a 15-cents hourly increase and submit the question of continuing wartime overtime privileges to arbitration.

"The answer is absolutely no," Jeffries replied when informed of the compromise plan. He repeated his assertion that no new offers would be made by the city until the more than 5,000 strikers return to work.

Then the mayor went to the office of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (A.F.L.) to confer in private with Robert Armstrong, international representative of the Transit Workers' Union.

While thousands without cars walked to work or hitched rides with other drivers, downtown department stores reported a nearly 50 per cent drop in business.

C.I.O. Woos City A.F.L. Figure

C.I.O. would establish an industrial union under C.I.O. domination to represent the Merriam workers in all negotiations with management. All other phases of labor problems would be handled through this new organization headed by the key figure in the undercover battle.

Switch Is Predicted
Sources close to the A.F.L. official involved frankly predict that he will make the switch. He is said to be giving the proposal serious consideration and expects to make his decision in the next few days.

If the A.F.L. man renounces his old ties and joins the rival faction, the organizing of the Lackawack workers is expected to be a mere formality, since he would carry the entire A.F.L. group with him.

If he decides to stay within his own ranks, labor observers predict a knockdown battle for control of the project with no indications at present as to what group would dominate.

Cashin at the opening session of the April term of county court Monday afternoon took the opportunity to extend his congratulations and well wishes to Louis Bruhn, who has been appointed district attorney for Ulster county to succeed N. LeVan Haver whose resignation was tendered to the governor last week.

Judge Cashin took the opportunity to introduce District Attorney Bruhn to the jurors and those present at the court session and stated that he welcomed Mr. Bruhn to the office and stated that he was sure Mr. Bruhn would live up to the high standard which had been set by predecessors in the office. He said the people of the county were to be congratulated on the excellent appointment which had been made by Governor Dewey and said that Mr. Bruhn was following a long line of distinguished predecessors which numbered among them Judge Cantine, Judge Cunningham, Judge Traver, Judge Stephen, Cleon B. Murray and Mr. Haver. Judge Cashin said that he knew Mr. Bruhn would live up to the high standard which has been set, for if work and industry were among the requirements they were both attributes which Mr. Bruhn possessed. He referred to Mr. Bruhn's record in World War 2, and said that he would always be available for conference or discussion of any problem which might come up in the office and in which he would be of assistance to the district attorney.

Bruhn Replies
In reply, Mr. Bruhn thanked Judge Cashin for his well wishes and stated that he would endeavor by hard work and strict application to the duties of his new office, to live up to the record set by his predecessors in office and he would endeavor to serve the people of the county to the best of his ability.

On the call of the jurors the Court excused 22 out of the panel to 36.

No civil action was ready for trial and Nos. 5 and 15 were set down tentatively for next Monday. Court will be convened again on Wednesday at 10 o'clock at which time the civil calendar will again be called. Jurors were excused until that time.

Suggests Postponement
Judge Cashin suggested that the criminal calendar be postponed until April 22 in order to give Mr. Bruhn an opportunity to arrange his office, which is now in a turmoil with carpenters at work making alterations to provide office room for Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth who is vacating the offices in the Brannier building on John street and moving to the court house. District Attorney Bruhn said he would have a criminal calendar on April 22. Court recessed until Wednesday at 10 a. m.

TO RATION OR NOT

Wide variance of opinion exists among leaders about resumption of food rationing as a means of meeting Uncle Sam's relief obligations. This step has been advocated by U.N.R.R.A.'s retiring head, Herbert H. Lehman. Former Supreme Court Justice Owen Roberts, speaking before a large audience at Bryn Mawr College, in Pennsylvania, advised not only restoration of wartime rationing and maintenance of price controls, but also diversion of a higher percentage of processed cereals than now contemplated, and creation of a pool for excess food production.

In Washington Chester Davis, chairman of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, said the committee had decided rationing would be no help, since it would take at least four months to get the machinery in operation again. The need for food abroad is immediate. However, Mr. Davis left open the possibility of return to rationing later, depending on crop production here and abroad this summer. Among other groups heard from on the subject were the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, urging elimination of all controls except rent ceilings by November 1. Cattlemen and slaughter house managers in Washington pled for the lifting of all regulations and restrictions in the meat industry.

Here is evidence of great confusion in a matter which cannot wait. The American people are agreed and eager to share their food stocks with the millions in other lands who hourly, now, face starvation. It is a discouraging commentary on democracy that the nation's leaders are so slow to agree upon a method of direct action. Food with speed is the present need.

WAITING FOR COLLEGE

This year's high school seniors are running into a new problem. They and their parents have expected them to go directly to college after graduation, but suddenly they find that getting admitted to a college is not so simple as it used to be.

The torrent of veterans who want more education has already flooded to overflowing campuses in every state, and the movement has just begun. As a result, colleges which used to be tolerant of mediocre high school academic marks have jerked up their standards and will admit only top students. Many state universities have established a policy of admitting only residents of their own states. Everywhere standards have been tightened in the attempt to keep the size of student bodies from bursting the seams of institutional facilities.

It is a new and somewhat baffling idea to the high school graduates that they may have to wait a year or so before going to college. Actually, the college experience will probably mean even more to them a year hence, and a job in the meantime will give them a chance to build up an extra fund for the purpose. This delay is a small matter compared with the three or four-year delay of veterans who spent the usual college years at war.

Man's still ahead of Nature in destructive power. Strikes cost more than floods. Man can do more harm just by doing nothing than Nature can by her darndest. War's a still better example. World War I cost $100,000,000,000 to start with, more than all the fires and earthquakes and floods in history. With the opening up of World War II Nature learned more than ever what a piker she is.

A lot of advanced thinkers, too, believe they're ultra-modern when they're just queer.

Watch driving up to or around curbs; hits and scrapes damage tires. Take turns wide.

New York (AP)—You can eat much better in Manhattan restaurants now than in the war years, take it from President Paul Henkel of the Society of Restaurateurs. One place off Times Square a year ago was serving only two meat dishes. Now it offers a dozen. One reason, says Henkel, is that with short-ages not so severe, more people are eating at home. New York's 19,000 public eating places, which served 8,000,000 meals a day much of last year, now serve about 6,500,000 a day.

ENFORCED UNITED FRONTS

Americans of European ancestry naturally desire to help their folks in the old country who are in distress. Their charity is usually of the heart and is not related to politics. In the old days, it used to be easy to be charitable. All that was necessary was to write a check and let it do some good. Today, it grows increasingly difficult to help those who need help, particularly if the aid is for displaced, dispossessed, hungry people abroad. A permit is needed.

The American Hungarian Relief, Inc. was organized to aid Hungarians in distress. It registered with the President's War Relief Control Board and was given permit No. 586. In a word, it was authorized to aid suffering humanity. But that permit did not come easily. Before it could be granted, these Americans of Hungarian origin were instructed by James Brunot, executive director of the President's War Relief Control Board, to amalgamate with an organization which is part of the Institute for International Democracy, a Communist front amalgam.

The Institute for International Democracy is one of the enterprises of Frederick V. Field of the "Daily Worker" and the "New Masses." Reporting on the Russian departure from the U.N.O. Conference in the Bronx, Field wrote in the "Daily Worker":

"The Anglo-American bloc is working ruthlessly at the Security Council meetings. For imperialism, insecurity, and war it is working with the tragic effectiveness. The people of the world are being sold down the river."

And, "The Anglo-American imperialist bloc is riding roughshod over world security and is succeeding because it has taken the majority of the council delegates into its reactionary camp."

That explains how Mr. Field feels about the United States and Soviet Russia and the rights of nations. So, he runs the steps are taken to register your organization with the board that you get in touch with Mr. Lugosi and other officers of the council for the purpose of planning one program and one organization with appropriate representation of all groups of Hungarian descent in this country.

And who is the chairman of the President's War Relief Control Board but "Mission to Moscow" Joseph E. Davies, the American who said it was all right for the Russians to swipe the atomic bomb.

Why should an organization of Americans be required to join with those whom they believe to be Communists or who they fear have Communist associations in their desire to serve their relatives and friends? What can be the reason for this pressure upon honest folks who believe in the American way of life but resent the destruction of the civilization of their ancestors by hordes from the East? May not free men select their associates?

I have before me a document which purports to be a report by John Lautner, member of the Board of Directors of the International Workers Order, a Communist front organization, in which he says:

Outside of the I.W.O. and the Rakoczy, all the Hungarian fraternal and church organizations are members by affiliation of the American Hungarian Federation. The leadership of the organization is in the hands of the most reactionary elements of the Hungarian community.

Yet, the President's War Relief Control Board practically forced those who belonged to the "reactionary elements," by which he meant decent normal Americans with church membership, to accept on their own Board of Directors those who belong to antagonistic organizations. Does it make sense?

IMPORTANCE OF CHEWING

While no one questions the good sense of cleaning and brushing the teeth to remove food particles that might destroy the enamel, we do not give enough attention to the inside of the tooth, that is its nourishment, which is a big factor in building up strong teeth and warding off infection. Fortunately the dental profession is giving the nourishment of the teeth much attention today.

In the Journal of the American Dental Association Meyer Klatsky, D.D.S., New York, N. Y., states that never before in the history of dentistry has the attention been so firmly focussed on nutrition. Many researchers believe that decay and destruction of teeth are due to modern civilized diet. Some research workers blame the poor condition of civilized man's teeth to lack of balance of calcium, fluorine and phosphorus in food, lack of vitamins is blamed by others. Dr. Klatsky states that an important factor, not emphasized sufficiently, is that it is our chewing habits that is a big factor in preventing the development of good strong teeth. "The intensive physiologic activity of the chewing organs brought about by the consumption of stimulating foods tends to enhance healthy growth of teeth, gums and jaw muscles. The sturdiness of the jaw bones, the vigor of the chewing muscles, and the health of the teeth of primitive peoples can be traced directly to the greater use of the chewing (masticatory) organs brought about by the eating of hard, fibrous, bulky and resistant foods. Civilized man on the other hand, uses few stimulating foods, his diet consisting mainly of liquids and semi-liquids. This leads to disuse of the chewing organs, hence the deplorable state of their health and development."

"We have neither the time nor the patience for a wholesome meal that requires much time for chewing."

While many research workers will continue to believe that protective foods—milk and milk products and fruits and vegetables are the most important factor in building up strong teeth, none will deny that chewing some "solid" foods daily is also necessary.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Only two of the original managers of the Industrial Home were living at the time the 50th annual meeting was held on January 31, 1927. The two were Miss Mary Van Leuven of Kingston, and Mrs. William Gokey of Brooklyn. Both were over 90 years of age.

Miss Van Leuven was honored at the annual meeting that month by being elected honorary president, while Mrs. Philip Elting was elected president.

The other officers chosen were Mrs. Frank R. Powley and Mrs. Williams Carter, vice presidents; Mrs. William H. Van Etten, recording secretary; Mrs. Samuel M. Watts, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Washburn, treasurer.

Many older readers may recall the years when the Industrial Home was located on Broadway, at Staples street. The old building is still standing. For a number of years the institution has been located in the fine building on East Chester street.

Arthur E. Rose, former Kingston lawyer, died in Albany on January 25, 1927. He was a graduate of old Kingston Academy in 1895, and later from the New Paltz Normal School. He studied law in the offices of former District Attorney John N. Vanderlyn in New Paltz, and John W. Searling in Kingston.

Mr. Rose was the first man to serve as county attorney when the office was created in 1906, and he served through 1913. In 1916 he was appointed a deputy attorney general in Albany, a post he held for several years, and later engaged in the private practice of law in Albany.

For some years while still a Kingston resident, Mr. Rose and the late Attorney Frank W. Brooks formed a law firm with offices on Main street. Both were able lawyers and the firm had a large practice.

The need of a modern hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis had been agitated in Kingston and Ulster county for a number of years.

For some years a building on Clifton avenue, near the City Home, was used as a TB Hospital, and was continued in use until the present plant was erected.

Vermon J. Faulkner, for years employed by the Cokendall interests downtown, died suddenly in his home on West Chestnut street on February 2, 1927. Mr. Faulkner during the many years he was a resident of this city, was a man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Mood of U. S. Unfortunately Is Much the Same as That of 1920 and Isolationism Is Recurring

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 2.—When the Gallup Poll records that most people think there will be another World War before 25 years have passed, the average man may say this is empty speculation. But the military and naval men whose business it is to think in terms of national security must go on the assumption that when another war comes, the United States shall not sacrifice tens of thousands of lives while getting prepared.

Unfortunately, the mood of the country today is coming to be somewhat like it was after 1920. President Truman may disagree that the nation is reverting to isolationist habits, but his own attitude toward the maintenance of an adequate Navy is exactly in line with the thoughts held by his predecessor, the late President Harding.

Back in 1920 there were many public officials who were willing not only to scrap what Navy we had but to keep America from building up to the limits permitted by international treaties. As a consequence, when Pearl Harbor came, the United States did not have either naval aircraft carriers or land-based planes in sufficient quantity to protect Hawaii.

Again and again the question has been asked: "Who was responsible for Pearl Harbor?" President Truman has said the American people were responsible. By this, he means that the country didn't support proper appropriations by Congress. But what he proposes now is to follow the mood of those who would substantially reduce Navy strength and also make the Navy less important in the national defense picture altogether.

The other day Admiral Nimitz was testifying as to the amount of appropriations needed by the Navy. He indicated that the Navy would be considerably weakened by the use against the United States of the Nimitz statement as not being in line with the facts, and it was learned that the director of the budget really cut the Navy appropriations down at the instance of President Truman himself.

The director of the budget does not say what the Navy needs. Yet he is empowered to slash its appropriations. Again and again before Pearl Harbor, the Budget Bureau cut Navy requests and had it not been for the wisdom of the Naval Affairs Committee in both the House and the Senate, which increased the funds above what the Budget Bureau recommended, the United States would have been even in worse condition at Pearl Harbor in 1941.

Unfortunately, this time there is a propaganda motivated by the Army Air Forces to discredit the Navy and nullify, if possible, its requests for appropriations. It is being openly asserted that there is no longer a need for the United States Navy because all the other navies of the world which could possibly be aggressors have been sunk. But it will be recalled that in the last war, the Navy was fighting and conducting a campaign of offense long after the bulk of the Japanese Fleet had been put out of action. The Navy's victories in landing troops and protecting Guam, Saipan and Iwo Jima made it possible for the Army Air Force planes to attack Japan with the atomic bombs.

Before the last war, there were extremists who wanted to scrap all battleships but it was a lucky thing America had battleships at Normandy to cover a 12-mile range inland while the invasion of France got underway. Somehow battleships helped to recapture the Philippines and to conquer Okinawa and to protect aircraft task forces along the coast of Japan.

There is another important factor overlooked today when it is suggested that the other navies are gone. The British still have a big navy. In 1940 when Britain was fighting with her back to the wall, there were many an anxious query inside the United States as to whether the British Fleet would fall into Hitler's hands. Supposing a nation threatens Britain with an atomic bomb unless she gives her fleet to that aggressor nation?

What guarantee is there that there will not be large navies to use against the United States just because there are none among potential enemies today?

The answer is that in 1920 the German Navy was sunk, too, and Japan was our ally. While America scrapped her ships and weakened her naval strength, other nations like Japan and Germany, which have always promised to remain neutral, have always promised to scrap other weapons but experience teaches that no nation rich enough to protect its people can afford to be super-economical when it comes to weapons needed for self-defense.

TODAY'S GARDEN GRAPH

Keep an Eye Out for Ants in the Lawn

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

ANTS MAY BE friendly little creatures in some respects, nevertheless they are enemies of a good lawn if they happen to infest it in colonies.

The galleries which they form in the soil disturb grass roots and the earthen mounds, or hills, which they build cover low growing plants and grasses.

Some species of ants carry away germinating seeds and others are indirectly injurious because they protect certain plant pests such as bugs and insects.

When ants' nests have made unsightly spots in the lawn, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, it is useless to remove such spots with seed until the ants have been killed. After the ants have been killed their nest-mounds should be leveled by raking thoroughly, new soil scattered over them, and the ground fertilized and re-seeded.

Hot water is useful for killing ants in the lawn, as illustrated in various forms also are for sale. They usually work, but if they don't, a spoonful of carbon bisulphide introduced through the turf by means of a long-stemmed oil can into each ant nest should eliminate them.

Carbon bisulphide may be obtained at any drug store, but remember, it will kill grass if you spill it.

Local Red Cross Disaster Group Meets Thursday

Specialist Will Discuss Disaster Preparedness and Show Newsreel on Operation

Noting the threat of windstorms, floods, forest fires, which are typical spring disasters, the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, is taking steps to meet its traditional obligations in emergency by revamping its disaster committees in both the city and county. These committees are composed of the best community leadership available and are responsible for the surveying of disaster hazards and local resources; securing cooperative understandings with public and private agencies; developing a disaster preparedness plan and organization, taking necessary action when disaster strikes and all appropriate measures to prevent loss of life and property.

A meeting of the disaster committees in the chapter will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Thursday evening, April 4, at which time a disaster specialist from the North Atlantic Area Office, American Red Cross, will discuss disaster preparedness and a newsreel on a disaster operation will be shown.

In the event of disaster the chapter is prepared to meet any rehabilitation requirements on the basis of actual need. Such assistance would include food allowances, replacement of clothing and household furniture, medical care, and repair of homes.

The local Red Cross disaster committees are under the chairmanship of G. Wallace Codwise, and the branch committees are headed by Leland Pulling, Ellenville; Fred VanVoorhis, Saugerties; Mrs. Esther Hudson and Miss Frances Fagan, Highland; Jesse McHugh, Wallkill and Warren Hutt, Woodstock.

You and the Atom Bomb

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Enough now has been disclosed by the men who share the dark secrets of the atomic bomb for us to picture what World War III would be like—if folly permits it to occur.

There is still some hope among high policy makers in this country and Great Britain that even if war comes the thought of disastrous consequences might stop any nation from launching the first bomb against a state prepared to strike back with the same weapon.

Those extending this hope suggest: Unless the first blow were a knock-out, there would surely be swift retaliation and grievous damage to the aggressor.

By the time both nations had delivered their full supplies of atomic bombs probably all the centers of population and industry on both sides would be destroyed, with most of their inhabitants.

(The chances of a country as large as the United States being fatally stricken in the first attack seem unlikely to the scientists.) An enemy thus might choose to fight it out with conventional weapons. Scientists cite the fact that gas was not used on any large scale in the last war as a parallel. Neither side wanted to start using gas first.

Might Lead to Attack

But there is another theory, that dread of atomic war might in itself lead to an atomic attack. Dr. Bernard Brodie wrote for the Yale Institute of International Studies:

"The anxiety which the atomic bomb itself induces . . . may breed national neuroses manifested in the urge for a 'preventive' war."

The doctrine that the only possible defense is a vigorous anticipatory offense may even acquire some military plausibility if the number of bombs in existence greatly increases, but it will be the 'solution' of total despair."

If an atomic bomb attacks should come, the scientific and military experts agree, it will be unannounced, swift, designed to be so devastating as to make retaliation impossible. The bombs may come by plane or rocket. Or if they become so simplified that they can be smuggled across a country's borders, they may be secretly planted in vital locations. The aggressor nation might then announce to the victim that they would be exploded in a matter of hours if he did not surrender.

Other Destructive Forces

With the atomic bomb attack would come other destructive forces, the experts say, such as radio-active gases, which are now known.

At present science says it sees little hope of finding a way to fend off atomic bombs. Yet history shows that almost every new weapon has been described as meaning "the end of the world." It is not impossible that some day a way to meet the atom bomb will be found.

At present, however, the only defense seems to be speedy mobilization of forces to resist invading troops and immediate counter-attack with atomic weapons. Once the supply of atomic bombs is exhausted—and it is believed likely that the supply always will be limited—the war can be fought out with whatever remnants of men and conventional military equipment that may be available. "But don't wait for the attack. Strike first!"

That's what Major Gen. Ray E. Porter, director of the Special Planning Division of the War Department, said to this writer.

"If your intelligence service is alert, you will know when a country has atomic bombs and is planning to start an attack. Don't wait until they have dropped their bombs on you. There is no way to successfully defend anything. You must attack if you wish to be successful."

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, however, testifying before the House Committee on Military Affairs, said:

"We are never going to do it first. I am certain of that. The United States never has, and I believe we will always be true to that American tradition. We are not going to deliver the first blow."

Nearly a billion people live on the lands of southeastern Asia, in about seven or eight per cent of the earth's land area.

Endeavorers Turn Out Despite Weather

The inclement weather last night did not interfere with the attendance at the second session of the annual Ulster County Endeavor Institute, which is holding weekly sessions in the Rensselaer Presbyterian Church during the month of April.

Last night's attendance of 77 people from various sections of Ulster county, was even larger than the opening session Monday, when 73 registered.

The institute will close on Friday evening, April 26, with the annual institute party, and plans are being made to make it a gala event.

Four study classes are held at each meeting of the institute. The first class period consists of two classes led by the Rev. Raymond Pontier and the Rev. Osterhout Phillips, which are followed by a recreation period, and then the closing two classes in charge of Nelson Lewis and the Rev. Albert H. Stultis and Mrs. Chester Greene.

The theme of the institute this year is "Enlist for Christ."

Ulster Marines Make Plans at Meeting

The rain, hail, sleet, thunder and lightning was no barrier to the meeting of the Ulster Marine Corps League, Monday night, when a representative number turned out to talk over plans for the future.

Among business last night was the election of Ray Mayone of Cedar street to replace Michael Sottile. Paul Bonesteel was elevated to senior vice commandant and Valmore F. Carpenter of West camp was chosen to serve as junior vice commandant.

A resolution was adopted favoring the Wicks-Hatfield bill to erect the Rhinecliff-Kingston bridge and a copy is to be sent to Governor Dewey urging that he sign it.

The Marine League is desirous of signing all marines from Ulster county who served in the corps at any time during war or peace and all others who saw service under marine commanders, regardless of the armed force branches with which they were connected.

Women who served with the marines are eligible to join, too, and are invited to sign up.

A special meeting of the Ulster League will be held in the American Legion Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, Monday night, April 15, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of all members, and those who wish to join their old comrades, in peacetime activities, are urged to attend.

Dead Army Pilots Found in Wreck At Mountain Base

Died Instantly in Crash Last January It Is Believed; Officers Probing Cause

The bodies of two army pilots missing since early January were found amid the wreckage of their bi-motored C-45 transport plane yesterday on the foot of the Denman mountain range by a search mission from Stewart Field air-base.

The flyers who are believed to have died instantly when their plane crashed in the 3,000-foot mountain on January 6 are First Lt. Philip A. Dittman, 30, of Crampton, Pa., and another pilot whose name is being withheld until next of kin have been notified.

Their bodies were taken to a Highland Falls undertaker in preparation for shipment to their homes.

Although missing since January the wreck was first spotted Sunday by a civilian pilot from the Monticello airport and it was apparent that heavy snow blanketed the wreck and prevented earlier discovery. There was still snow yesterday as the craft mission under the direction of Captain H. W. Woodson, Stewart Field flying safety officer, reached the scene.

The Stewart Field party and New York State Police officers began the trek up the steep mountain as an L-5 airplane piloted by First Lt. Robert H. Walker circled the scene to guide the searchers.

The wrecked C-45 had flown out of the Bedford Army Field, Boston, Mass., early in January.

A qualified board of army officers has been appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

To Poll Public On West Shore Train Service

Hours for Ferry and Highway Program Here Also Discussed by Committee

The first meeting of the Transportation Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce was held at 4 p. m. Monday. Members of this committee include Bert Bishop, Joseph Forman, A. H. Wicks, Robert Toesle, Jacob Greenwald, Maynard Smitel, Monroe Southard, Morris Samer and John A. Cole.

Decision to poll public opinion through local news sources on the question of express train service on the West Shore Railroad was made. Citizens of Kingston and vicinity will be asked the hour of the day which they would like express train service to arrive at and leave from 42nd street, New York city, as well as Albany.

The committee expects to have an appointment with railroad officials in New York soon and answers to the poll are desired by April 30.

On the question of hours and fares for the new ferry service to be established by the State of New York, the committee approved the suggestions made by the Publicity, Retail and Wholesale Committees, that the ferry should operate from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. as long as service is limited to a 12-hour schedule. On the subject of fares, a recommendation was made that the ferry charges will be made to Commission officials.

On the subject of highway transportation, a motion was passed that the committee recommend to the Board of Directors a resolution endorsing the construction of New York State Highway 52 from Woodburne to Ellenville and the continuation of reconstruction of Route 28 from West Hurley to the county line in the vicinity of Highmount, be carried on as soon as feasible. It is felt that the Woodburne-Ellenville road will have the effect of increasing property values and therefore tax income in a section of the county which has suffered decreasing values.

Farmers Urged To Be at Session To Plan '47 Slate

Friday at 8 p. m. in the Farm Bureau meeting room, 74 John street, there will be a combined meeting of all county and community committees, other farm cooperators and fertilizer dealers to find out what farmers think about the 1947 agricultural conservation program, and what they want to include in it.

Discussing the session, Harry J. Beatty, chairman of the county agricultural association, said: "Those who attended a similar meeting last summer, certainly left with a better understanding of the agricultural conservation program and what it could do for them."

"Those who attend Friday's meeting will not be disappointed either. This is the program of each one of them which the government is asking them to formulate. In no other country in the world do farmers have a similar opportunity. I urge every farmer to attend."

Veterans Group Makes Memorial Day Plans for City

Various Directors Are Chosen to Arrange for Parade, Other Activities

The Kingston Veterans Association met last evening to make arrangements for the annual observance of Memorial Day. Roswell Coles, chairman of the Association, presided.

This year the office parade chairman goes to the American Legion and they unanimously selected Harold V. Clayton, World War 2 veteran, as chairman of the parade activities. The Association also unanimously selected Chief Joseph L. Murphy as grand marshal of the parade.

The usual Sunday afternoon services at those who have died at sea will be held on May 26 under supervision of Auxiliary 53, of Tappan Camp, No. 1. The services in the Municipal Auditorium will be held that same evening. James M. Krom is chairman of the arrangements for this memorial service. John Melville is chairman of the radio committee.

Roswell Coles, chairman of the Association and a member of the Colonial Camp, Spanish War Veterans, stated that he was highly pleased with the co-operation which he was receiving from the various organizations in the Association.

The annual parade will be held on Memorial Day, May 30, with the formation at 1:30 o'clock and the parade will get under way promptly at 2 o'clock over usual line of march. It is anticipated that the parade will be one of the largest ever held in Kingston on Memorial Day. Many veterans of World War 2 will be in line for the first time and there will be a division specially for veterans of World War 2, who are not affiliated with any veterans organization. Among the new organizations in line will be the recently formed Marine's Organization.

Jeffries Rejects Offer, Detroit Is Still Hit by Strike

Detroit, April 2 (AP)—Mayor Edward J. Jeffries today rejected a "compromise offer" to end the shutdown of the city's transit system and a brief conference with a high union official ended with no progress reported.

No further negotiations were scheduled.

The offer was made by James Hoffa, business agent for the A.F.L. Teamsters Union, who was called in by union leaders as the strike went into its second day.

Hoffa proposed that the city grant the striking bus and street car operators a 15-cents hourly increase and submit the question of continuing wartime overtime privileges to arbitration.

"The answer is absolutely no," Jeffries replied when informed of the compromise plan. He repeated his assertion that no new offers would be made by the city until the more than 5,000 strikers return to work.

Then the mayor went to the office of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (A.F.L.) to confer in private with Robert Armstrong, international representative of the Transit Workers' Union.

While thousands without cars walked to work or hitchhiked with other drivers, downtown department stores reported a nearly 50 per cent drop in business.

C.I.O. Woos City A.F.L. Figure

C.I.O. would establish an industrial union under C.I.O. domination to represent the Merriam workers in all negotiations with management. All other phases of labor problems would be handled through this new organization headed by the key figure in the underover battle.

Switch Is Predicted

Sources close to the A.F.L. official involved frankly predict that he will make the switch. He is said to be giving the proposal serious consideration and expects to make his decision in the next few days.

If the A.F.L. man renounces his old ties and joins the rival faction, the organizing of the Lackawack workers is expected to be a mere formality, since he would carry the entire A.F.L. group with him.

If he decides to stay within his own ranks, labor observers predict a knockdown battle for control of the project with no indications at present as to what group would dominate.

Weather Outlook

New York, April 2 (AP)—Weather forecast for Middle Atlantic States, eastern and central New York, tomorrow through Saturday inclusive:

Temperature will be above normal Wednesday and Thursday but cooler Friday and Saturday, warming up on Sunday. Average for the period near normal in eastern New York and five to 10 degrees above normal over Middle Atlantic States. Precipitation will occur as light and moderate showers about Thursday.

Normals for: Northern New York, 42; central New York, 46; southern New York, 53.

A driver, swerving to miss the cows, hit a calf, and his woman companion and the calf went into a ditch full of water. Another car glanced at a parked truck and struck the leg of a navy lieutenant who had stopped to help.

The boxscore:
Three damaged cars. One wet woman. One drowned calf. One compound leg fracture. One negligent driving charge. Three unsaved cows.

Trade-In

Bellingham Wash., April 2 (AP)—Farmer William McLaughlin ran this advertisement:
"Will trade Distinguished Service Cross I won in World War 1 for priority on tractor."

The ex-machine gunner of the first World War said he had saved for five years to buy a tractor, but couldn't buy one now because priority regulations favored veterans of World War 2. His decoration was for wiping out a German machinegun net singlehanded.

God Sport

Polk, Neb., April 2 (AP)—"When you share the joys of young folks you must share their bumps," philosophized the Rev. A. Bates of the Polk Methodist Church as he hobbled on crutches today. The minister had taken a group of young people to a nearby town for a roller skating party and joined in the fun. Another skater accidentally bumped him and he fell. He suffered broken ankles.

Hot Cow!

New Ulm, Minn., April 2 (AP)—Henceforth the choirs of the New Ulm churches will not have to compete with roving cows, bleating sheep and squealing hogs. Livestock in trucks parked near churches have been burning hymns and the congregations have objected. The City Council has ordered police to arrest truckers who park their loads of livestock near houses of worship.

SHOKAN

Shokan, April 2—Joseph H. DeWitt, War 2 veteran, paid a visit to his home on Route 28 and called on local friends last Thursday. Joe, who served in the Italian campaign, has been staying with relatives in Atwood since his discharge from the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bostock of Pennsylvania are visiting Mrs. Bostock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of the mountain road. William Jackson, local high school student and member of the New York State Guard, has been elected president of the Youth Fellowship of the Ashokan M. E. Church.

Joseph Hausner is making a road through his woodlot from Route 28 to the Tonche Mountain road.

Fennel Franchling of Woodstock was a business caller in the village Tuesday. Mr. Franchling reports a serious housing shortage in his locality.

Wendell Gray, formerly of Kingston, is at his home on the mountain road following discharge from the service.

Tuesday, April 3, 1900—Funeral services were held at Boiceville for Mrs. Millard Davis whose farm home was on the west side of the Esopus Creek near the present head of the Ashokan Reservoir. Mrs. Davis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Weidner, was the mother of Millard and Benjamin Davis of Kenilworth and Weidner Davis of Hurley. She was also an aunt of Mrs. M. Gaffney and Benjamin Winne of Kingston.

Mrs. Robert Winne and brother,

Carl Marino, formerly of Brooklyn, have employment in Kingston.

Joseph Cohen of Brooklyn was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen of Ashokan. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hahn and children of New York are expected to arrive this week at their Shokan place which they bought last year of the Frank Myers heirs. The Hahn property on the north boulevard includes a large dwelling, a filling station and refreshment building, together with several acres of farm land. The mountain road bungalow, home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Gray, which was sold off the place last fall is reported to have been acquired by M. Edmundson who bought the Robert Palen house at Ashokan several years ago.

The field-stone foundation for William Loos' proposed bungalow in the woods along the Ridge road has been completed by a local mason, Mr. Loos, a resident of Inwood, L. I., is a brother of Mrs. James Carpenter, a summer resident of Shokan for many years.

The Olive assessors began their field work last Wednesday. Members of the board this year are Asa Barringer of Samsonville, Charles Gustavson of Olive Bridge and Homer Markle, Jr., of Shokan. Mr. Markle succeeds his father who held the office twelve years. The assessors have a busy season ahead of them, due to the large number of real estate transfers in Olive since the roll was completed last summer.

The Chinese annual population growth sometimes is estimated as high as 5,000,000 a year.

LeFever Takes
Special Course
In New York City

Dr. Harry R. LeFever, Jr., 129 Maiden Lane, this city, has just returned from New York, where he took a post-graduate course in the fitting and prescribing of Feincone contact lenses. These unbreakable lenses, which are made of plastic, fit invisibly over the eyeball and correct eye defects.

Dr. Joseph Menaker conducted the course and demonstrated these contact lenses at a special clinic. Dr. Menaker is associated with Dr. William Feinbloom of New York, inventor of the invisible eyeglasses which can be fitted scientifically to any eye. Dr. Feinbloom, Research Fellow at Columbia University, Fellow of the American Academy of Optometry, is also the inventor of the telescopic spectacles micro-vision spectacles and other devices all of which have aided thousands of near blind throughout the world. He is the pioneer in this country in the fitting and designing of contact lenses and has made outstanding contributions in this field.

Developed primarily to overcome visual difficulties caused by keratoconus and scarred corneas, contact lenses are now worn by stage, screen and concert stars, athletes, business men and others who disdain glasses but must wear some corrective optical device.

Contact lenses are also a boon to many who cannot be aided by ordinary spectacles but who are helped immeasurably by invisible glasses. The lens is worn in intimate contact with the eyeball with only a layer of water between the lens and the cornea. Thus the lens in effect forms an artificial cornea and its optical powers is said to correct errors of vision.

This type of lens is meeting growing demands to replace spectacles. It is invisible, non-shatterable, the plastic does not irritate the tissues of the eye and the lenses can be worn for long periods of time.

"Not a single case of injury to the eyes due to the wearing of contact lenses has ever been reported since they first came into use in 1910," Dr. LeFever said, adding, "There are, however, many cases where contact lenses have actually prevented an injury to the eye when an accident occurred."

The records show that of all those who wear contact lenses 65 per cent are women, ages 14 to 50, and 35 per cent are men, ages 18 to 50.

TO RATION OR NOT

Wide variance of opinion exists among leaders about resumption of food rationing as a means of meeting Uncle Sam's relief obligations. This step has been advocated by U.N.R.R.A.'s retiring head, Herbert H. Lehman. Former Supreme Court Justice Owen Roberts, speaking before a large audience at Bryn Mawr College, in Pennsylvania, advised not only restoration of wartime rationing and maintenance of price controls, but also diversion of a higher percentage of processed cereals than now contemplated, and creation of a pool for excess food production.

In Washington Chester Davis, chairman of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, said the committee had decided rationing would be no help, since it would take at least four months to get the machinery in operation again. The need for food abroad is immediate. However, Mr. Davis left open the possibility of return to rationing later, depending on crop production here and abroad this summer. Among other groups heard from on the subject were the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, urging elimination of all controls except rent ceilings by November 1. Cattlemen and slaughterhouse managers in Washington pled for the lifting of all regulations and restrictions in the meat industry.

Here is evidence of great confusion in a matter which cannot wait. The American people are agreed and eager to share their food stocks with the millions in other lands who hourly, now, face starvation. It is a discouraging commentary on democracy that the nation's leaders are so slow to agree upon a method of direct action. Food with speed is the present need.

WAITING FOR COLLEGE

This year's high school seniors are running into a new problem. They and their parents have expected them to go directly to college after graduation, but suddenly they find that getting admitted to a college is not so simple as it used to be.

The torrent of veterans who want more education has already flooded to overflowing campuses in every state, and the movement has just begun. As a result, colleges which used to be tolerant of mediocre high school academic marks have jerked up their standards and will admit only top students. Many state universities have established a policy of admitting only residents of their own states. Everywhere standards have been tightened in the attempt to keep the size of student bodies from bursting the seams of institutional facilities.

It is a new and somewhat baffling idea to the high school graduates that they may have to wait a year or so before going to college. Actually, the college experience will probably mean even more to them a year hence, and a job in the meantime will give them a chance to build up an extra fund for the purpose. This delay is a small matter compared with the three or four-year delay of veterans who spent the usual college years at war.

Man's still ahead of Nature in destructive power. Strikes cost more than floods. Man can do more harm just by doing nothing than Nature can by her darndest. War's a still better example. World War I cost $100,000,000,000 to start with, more than all the fires and earthquakes and floods in history. With the opening up of World War II Nature learned more than ever what a piker she is.

A lot of advanced thinkers, too, believe they're ultra-modern when they're just queer.

Watch driving up to or around curbs: hits and scrapes damage tires. Take turns wide.

New York City is much better in Manhattan than it was in the war years. Take in from First Street to the end of the Square. Restaurants, hotels, and shops are all there. Now it's a dozen. One reason, says Frank, is that with shortages no one could afford to live in the city. Now, with the money and the peace, they're coming back. A lot of them are coming back. A lot of them are coming back. A lot of them are coming back.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

ENFORCED UNITED FRONTS

Americans of European ancestry naturally desire to help their folks in the old country who are in distress. Their charity is usually of the heart and is not related to politics. In the old days, it used to be easy to be charitable. All that was necessary was to write a check and let it do some good. Today, it grows increasingly difficult to help those who need help, particularly if the aid is for displaced, dispossessed, hungry people abroad. A permit is needed.

The American Hungarian Relief, Inc. was organized to aid Hungarians in distress. It registered with the President's War Relief Control Board and was given permit No. 586. In a word, it was authorized to aid suffering humanity. But that permit did not come easily. Before it could be granted, these Americans of Hungarian origin were instructed by James Brunot, executive director of the President's War Relief Control Board, to amalgamate with an organization which is part of the Institute for International Democracy, a Communist front amalgam.

The Institute for International Democracy is one of the enterprises of Frederick V. Field of the "Daily Worker" and the "New Masses." Reporting on the Russian departure from the U.N.O. Conference in the Bronx, Field wrote in the "Daily Worker":

"The Anglo-American bloc is working ruthlessly at the Security Council meetings. For imperialism, insecurity, and war it is working with the tragic effectiveness. The people of the world are being sold down the river."

And, "The Anglo-American imperialist bloc is riding roughshod over world security and is succeeding because it has taken the majority of the council delegates into its reactionary camp."

That explains how Mr. Field feels about the United States and Soviet Russia and the rights of nations. So, he runs the Institute for International Democracy and that institute houses the following organizations:

Council for Pan American Democracy.
Hungarian-American Council for Democracy.
Council on African Affairs.
American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.

Citizens Victory Committee for Harry Bridges.
Victory Council of the Foreign Language Press.
Voice of Fighting Spain.
National Council of Hungarian American Trade Unionists.

Now, comes the connection: When the American Hungarian Relief sought a permit to succor Hungarians who are starving, this is what they were ordered to do:

Recently, we have had some correspondence with Mr. Bela Lugosi, president of the Hungarian-American Council for Democracy, which is interested, also, in providing aid to Hungarians abroad as soon as it is practicable to do so. I suggest, therefore, that before any further steps are taken to register your organization with the board that you get in touch with Mr. Lugosi and other officers of the council for the purpose of planning one program and one organization with appropriate representation of all groups of Hungarian descent in this country."

And who is the chairman of the President's War Relief Control Board but "Mission to Moscow" Joseph E. Davies, the American who said it was all right for the Russians to swipe the atomic bomb.

Why should an organization of Americans be required to join with those whom they believe be Communists or who they fear have Communist associations in their desire to serve their relatives and friends? What can be the reason for this pressure upon honest folks who believe in the American way of life but resent the destruction of the civilization of their ancestors by hordes from the East? May not free men select their associates?

I have before me a document which purports to be a report by John Lautner, member of the Board of Directors of the International Workers Order, a Communist front organization, in which he says:

"Outside of the I.W.O. and the Rakoczy, all the Hungarian and Czech organizations are members by affiliation of the American Hungarian Federation. The leadership of the organization is in the hands of the most reactionary elements of the Hungarian community."

Yet, the President's War Relief Control Board practically forced those who belonged to "the reactionary elements," by which he meant decent, normal Americans with church membership, to accept on their own Board of Directors those who belong to antagonistic organizations. Does it make sense?

IMPORTANCE OF CHEWING

While no one questions the good sense of cleaning and brushing the teeth to remove food particles that might destroy the enamel, we do not give enough attention to the inside of the tooth, that is its nourishment, which is a big factor in building up strong teeth and warding off infection. Fortunately the dental profession is giving the nourishment of the teeth much attention today.

In the Journal of the American Dental Association Meyer Klatsky, D.D.S., New York, N. Y., states that never before in the history of dentistry has the attention been so firmly focused on nutrition. Many researchers believe that decay and destruction of teeth are due to modern civilized diet. Some research workers blame the poor condition of civilized man's teeth to lack of balance of calcium, fluorine and phosphorus in food, lack of vitamins in the diet. Others, however, state that an important factor, not emphasized sufficiently, is that it is our chewing habits that is a big factor in preventing the development of good strong teeth. The intensive physiologic activity of the chewing organs brought about by the consumption of stimulating foods tends to enhance healthy growth of teeth, gums and jaw muscles. The sturdiness of the jaw bones, the vigor of the chewing muscles, and the health of the teeth of primitive peoples can be traced directly to the greater use of the chewing (masticatory) organs brought about by the eating of hard, fibrous, bulky and resistant foods. Civilized man on the other hand, uses low stimulating foods, his diet consisting mainly of liquids and semi-solids. This leads to decay of the chewing organs; hence the deplorable state of our health and development.

"We have neither the time nor the patience for a wholesome meal that requires much time for chewing."

While many research workers will continue to believe that protective foods, vitamins and minerals are the most important factors in building up strong teeth, none will deny that chewing some solid foods daily is also necessary.

Mr. Rose was the first man to he served through 1913. In 1916

he was appointed a deputy at-

he held for several years, and later

The bride wore a neutral gaidardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Her sister, Miss Pauline Heidcamp, as maid of honor wore a gold wool suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Nicholas A. Tataras, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents for about 60 guests. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Dall left for a wedding trip to Albany. They are now making their home with his parents for the present time.

Mrs. Dall, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed by the New York Telephone Company. ## Local Red Cross Disaster Group Meets Thursday

Specialist Will Discuss Disaster Preparedness and Show Newsreel on Operation

Noting the threat of windstorms, floods, forest fires, which are typical spring disasters, the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, is taking steps to meet its traditional obligations in emergency by revamping its disaster committees in both the city and county. These committees are composed of the best community leadership available and are responsible for the surveying of disaster hazards and local resources; securing cooperative understandings with public and private agencies; developing a disaster preparedness plan and organization, taking necessary action when disaster strikes and all appropriate measures to prevent loss of life and property.

A meeting of the disaster committees in the chapter will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Thursday evening, April 4, at which time a disaster specialist from the North Atlantic Area Office, American Red Cross, will discuss disaster preparedness and a newsreel on a disaster operation will be shown.

In the event of disaster the chapter is prepared to meet any rehabilitation requirements on the basis of actual need. Such assistance would include food, clothing, replacement of clothing and household furniture, medical care, and repair of homes.

The local Red Cross disaster committees are under the chairmanship of G. Wallace Codwise, and the branch committees are headed by Leland Pulling, Ellen-ville; Fred VanVoorhis, Sauger-ties; Mrs. Esther Hudson and Miss Frances Fagan, Highland; Jesse McHugh, Walkkill and Warren Hutt, Woodstock.

You and the Atom Bomb

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, April 2 (AP)—Enough now has been disclosed by the men who share the dark secrets of the atomic bomb for us to picture what World War III would be like—if folly permits it to occur.

There is still some hope among high policy makers in this country and Great Britain that even if war comes the thought of disastrous consequences might stop any nation from launching the first bomb against a state prepared to strike back with the same weapon.

Those extending this hope suggest: Unless the first blow were a knock-out, there would surely be swift retaliation and grievous damage to the aggressor.

By the time both nations had delivered their full supplies of atomic bombs probably all the centers of population and industry on both sides would be destroyed with most of their inhabitants.

(The chances of a country as large as the United States being fatally stricken in the first attack seem unlikely to the scientists.)

An enemy thus might choose to fight it out with conventional weapons. Scientists cite the fact that gas was not used on any large scale in the last war as a parallel. Neither side wanted to start using gas first.

Might Lead to Attack

But there is another theory, that dread of atomic war might in itself lead to an atomic attack.

Dr. Bernard Erodie wrote for the Yale Institute of International studies:

"The anxiety which the atomic bomb itself induces... may breed national neuroses manifested in the urge for a 'preventive' war."

The doctrine that the only possible defense is a vigorous anticipatory offense may even acquire some military plausibility if the number of bombs in existence greatly increases, but it will be the 'solution' of total despair."

If an atomic bomb attacks should come, the scientific and military experts agree, it will be unannounced, swift, designed to be so devastating as to make retaliation impossible. The bombs may come by plane or rocket. Or if they become so simplified that they can be smuggled across a country's borders, they may be secretly planted in vital locations. The aggressor nation might then announce to the victim that they would be exploded in a matter of hours if he did not surrender.

Other Destructive Forces With the atomic bomb attack would come other destructive forces, the experts say, such as radio-active gases, which are now known.

present science says it sees little hope of finding a way to fend off atomic bombs. Yet history shows that almost every new weapon has been described as meaning "the end of the world."

It is not impossible that some day a way to meet the atom bomb will be found.

At present, however, the only defense seems to be speedy mobilization of forces to resist invading troops and immediate counter-attack with atomic weapons.

Once the supply of atomic bombs is exhausted—and it is believed likely that the supply always will be limited—the war can be fought out with whatever remnants of men and conventional military equipment that may be available.

"But don't wait for the attack. Strike first!"

That's what Major Gen. Ray E. Porter, director of the Special Planning Division of the War Department, said to this writer.

"If your intelligence service is alert, you will know when a country has atomic bombs and is planning to start an attack. Don't wait until they have dropped their bombs on you. There is no way to successfully defend anything. You must attack if you wish to be successful."

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, however, testifying before the House Committee on Military Affairs, said:

"We are never going to do it first. I am certain of that. The United States never has, and I believe we will always be true to that American tradition. We are not going to deliver the first blow."

Russians Will Not Discuss Food in London Meeting

London, April 2 (AP)—Barring word to the contrary from Moscow, the Soviet Union will not be represented by delegates from 18 nations convening here in emergency session tomorrow to discuss the European cereal supply problem.

A conference spokesman announced last night that Russia had rejected without explanation an invitation to attend. She has been asked to reconsider, the spokesman added, and a reply is being awaited.

The United States will be represented by Thomas C. Blaisdell, chief of the U. S. Economic Mission to Europe.

Army Wants 500 Teachers to Serve in Japan, Korea

Tokyo, April 2 (AP)—High salaries, low living costs and the chance to see a foreign country are the inducements with which the army hopes to lure 500 civilian teachers from the United States to Japan and Korea.

Col. R. G. Gard, chief of the information and education section of the Pacific forces, said the teaching program for enlisted men, starting in July, training would range from the literacy level through junior college in academic, commercial and trade subjects.

TIDAL WAVE HITS HONOLULU HARBOR

This is a pre-war view of Honolulu Harbor, where gigantic waves were reported to have done heavy damage. At this point the tide was reported to have risen 10 feet above the normal high tide mark and flooded waterfront warehouses and stores. (AP Wirephoto).

Tidal Wave Toll Might Reach 300

said the vast length of such waves, from crest to crest, would enable vessels to ride them out without difficulty.

The waves piled up into terrifying walls of water as they reached coastlines, however, and Ketchikan, Alaska, reported a 100-foot wave had swept Scotch Cap light-house from the Aleutian Island of Unimak with an estimated loss of 10 lives.

Tokyo reported no disturbance of any sort.

At East Island, on French Frigate Shoal, 450 miles northwest of Honolulu, the giant seas swept clear over the island, the Coast Guard said. There was no word of the island's little naval garrison.

In sheltered Honolulu, on the leeward side of Oahu Island, army, navy, territorial and federal relief agencies mobilized hastily for one of the greatest disaster-relief jobs in Hawaiian history.

Honolulu's leeward location sheltered the luxury hotels of Waikiki beach and left naval shipping in landlocked Pearl Harbor undamaged.

Hilo, exposed to the full force of the waves, was a scene of horror. Weeping friends and relatives waited on high ground as troops in the wrecked waterfront recovered bodies.

Buildings were crushed and ripped apart; huge gaps were pushed through thick concrete walls, and there was a sprawling litter of what had been railroad cars, automobiles, trucks, buildings and boats.

Army patrols guarded against looting, although martial law had not been declared.

Nathaniel Gets View

A chance telephone call at 6 a. m. aroused Dan Nathaniel, Jr., who then got one of the clearest views of the Hilo disaster. He noticed that the sea had receded unbelievably, leaving the ocean bed in front of his cottage almost dry.

"Then it came, in nine waves. I ran out, and it caught me. Waves were over the railroad bridge, 50 feet above the normal streambed."

Tossed on the raging crests, he grasped a store marquee and managed to cling there until the waters receded.

Two ships were caught by the giant waves in Hilo's harbor. The anchor cable snapped immediately on the freighter William B. Hoxie and the vessel was tossed up on the beach. The Brigham Victory managed to reach the open sea and ride out the waves safely.

Rescue efforts were hampered by battered communications lines, and a truck with a loudspeaker cruised the area, asking that names of the missing be telephoned to police headquarters to facilitate the search.

Teachers Are Lost

C. R. Ferdun, school principal at Laupahoehoe, 25 miles northwest of Hilo, said the many missing there included three American teachers.

He named them as Faye Johnson, Vinton, Va.; Dorothy Drake, Columbus, O.; and Helen Kingseed, Sidney, O.

Cottages in which they lived were swept to sea or hurled into piles of debris inland.

On Oahu, two navy men swept to sea from Kaneohe Naval Air Station were rescued. Two army men reported missing off Koko Head were washed ashore on logs. Rushed to a hospital, they were reported in a serious condition.

The horror of the tidal wave was the suddenness with which it swept in from the sea and surged without warning over lowlands. Most people were just getting out of bed or were at breakfast.

Children drowned in their beds. Adults died trying to fight clear of the boiling waters. Some who saw the waves coming and tried to reach high ground were caught and dragged back into the swirling tide.

Hilo poured plans for air-sea rescue help into a fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor throughout the night as searchers tried to find men, women and children washed out to sea. Two Navy Raiders and a Navy patrol plane were ordered into the air search at dawn in the Hilo area and other planes were sent from Maui.

A Navy sea-air rescue flying boat picked up four men from the water off northern Hawaii at dusk last evening, but had to sit out the night awaiting surface craft. Its propellers idling, the ship was headed into the heavy swells, which made the water too rough for a takeoff.

Seismologist Explains Action

Pasadena, Calif., April 2 (AP)—Here's a seismologist's explanation of the tidal wave, from Dr. Charles F. Richter of California Institute of Technology.

"The wave seemed somewhat out of proportion to the shock itself."

"Apparently conditions of earth-motion, the locality, depth of water at the point of the shock and other factors caused an unduly heavy wave, which fanned outward, probably traveling as fast as 400 mph in deep water."

There were indications the earthquake, first registering here at 7:38 a. m. (E.S.T.) yesterday, may have had its epicenter in the Aleutian Deep, which at places plunges 15,000 feet below the ocean's surface.

Dr. Richter added that such phenomena are not uncommon after submarine quakes and this particular one was only moderate in strength.

Chile Gets Wave

Iquique, Chile, April 2 (AP)—A 100-foot tidal wave struck this north Chilean port early today, destroying several boats and causing panic among 300 inhabitants of the Cavancha peninsula. No casualties were reported, and damage on the mainland was slight.

Peninsula residents, with the aid of taxis, were moved to higher ground. The waters receded in about an hour.

Training Course Here for Law Enforcement Officers

Will Be Held Here Weekly From April 16 to June 4; Schedule Is Announced

Sheriff George C. Smith of Ulster county announced today that there will be a Basic In-Service Training School for all law enforcement officers of Ulster and Greene counties to commence at Kingston on Tuesday, April 16 and to continue weekly thereafter to June 4. This school is part of the recently adopted long range educational program being sponsored by the New York State Chiefs of Police Association and the New York State Sheriff's Association with the cooperation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Class will be held in the Board of Supervisors room in the County Court House, Kingston, starting at 7:30 p. m. on April 16 for eight successive weeks.

The schedule of classes indicates a coverage of fundamental and basic police subjects. In addition to various F.B.I. agents, who will act as instructors, several local officials have agreed to participate including the newly appointed District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn of Ulster county, County Judge John M. Cashion, District Attorney Harold Plaster of Greene county, the American Red Cross and, in addition, Detective John Martin of the Poughkeepsie Police Department and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan of the Dutchess county sheriff's office, the last two being graduates of the F.B.I. National Academy.

Considerable enthusiasm is being evidenced in this new statewide police training program and Sheriff Smith states that he has already contacted the various police agencies in Ulster and Greene counties and that every one has indicated a desire to attend and actively participate.

The following schedule has been approved by F.B.I. Chief John Edgar Hoover:

April 16, 1946—Techniques and Mechanics of Arrest; Defensive Tactics with a Judo demonstration, F.B.I. Agents D. Jenkins and J. Davis.

April 23, 1946—Laws of Arrest and Arraignments, District Attorney H. Plaster, Statements, Confessions, District Attorney L. Bruhn.

Chaplains Asked To Preserve Morals Of Troops in Japan

Tokyo, April 2 (AP)—General MacArthur called upon Army chaplains in Japan today to "exert strong and direct moral leadership" over occupying troops, declaring that some Americans feared there was "widespread, promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character."

"On several occasions, I have taken the opportunity to commend publicly the high standard maintained by our forces engaged in the occupation, and I have seen nothing to discount that view," MacArthur said. "I have, however, recently received letters from American homes expressing grave concern and deep distress over published reports suggestive of an existing widespread promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character."

The Allied commander said measures had been taken to curb prostitution and to provide troops with healthy recreation, but that moral leadership also was necessary.

An order banning all social contact with the Japanese people should be useless, MacArthur added.

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A group of approximately 50 irate Southern Democratic legislators called on National Party Chairman Robert Hannegan today to apologize personally to them for a critical article in a Democratic headquarters publication.

The Southerners held a closed meeting and adopted a resolution specifically demanding a retraction of statements made in the April issue of the Democratic Digest, official organ of the women's division of the party.

The publication's statement which aroused the Southerners was this:

"And let your representatives know that the passage of the Restrictive case (labor disputes) bill was a vote against American People."

Thunderstorm Hits Kingston April 1, Snow, Rain, Sleet

Kingston was enveloped with a variety of weather the first of April when snow, rain and sleet fell, and during the evening a thunder and lightning storm broke over the city.

During the afternoon rain and snow fell intermittently and during the early evening the rain changed to sleet, and nearly an inch covered sidewalks and streets. Before the sleet had the opportunity of freezing to the roads and sidewalks the weather moderated and rain began falling. The storm continued in progress until about midnight.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 29 to a high of 40 degrees. The lowest temperature recorded last night was 37 degrees, and at 9 o'clock this morning the official thermometer was registering 50 degrees, and indications were it would be even warmer during the afternoon.

A glance at the record shows that April 1, 1945, temperatures in the city ranged from 48 to 75 degrees, while April 2, a thunder and lightning storm broke over the city while temperatures ranged from 53 to 63 degrees.

Bogert Says Fears Are Speculation

Established for the super-highway at the present time are located in the area between Catskill and Saugerties, Mr. Bogert revealed.

Original plans are subject to drastic changes, depending upon the findings of foundation drillings, investigations and other factors connected with road building, he added.

The over-all original plans already have been changed once, but the State Department of Highways is sticking to its original blueprint of bypassing all large cities and towns and congested traffic channels along the route.

Priority Affects Plans
The heavy priority established for the veterans housing program will seriously affect the original schedule of construction, the highway engineer predicted.

"The State Department has mapped out an extensive program of repairs, improvements and additions to existing highways, but the so-called 'new projects' will have to wait their turn," Mr. Bogert said. "Because of the tight housing situation, the State Department will try to keep at a minimum any interference with labor and material required for the housing program."

Food Gouges Protested

Mexicans are being "robbed blind" by sellers of some food items, according to a group of Mexico City residents who are organizing to exhort the citizens to rise in protest. Principal items mentioned on which the public has been squeezed by poor quality and high prices are, first, sesame oil which it is claimed is being sold in place of olive oil and at the same price; and second, so-called coffee. This latter product, the protestants claim, is only a mixture of garbanzo, toasted beans, and bread and tortillas treated in some manner.

by Mayor Edelmuth, Chief Phinney and the Board of Police Commissioners that the conduct of the police force in the recent years was not what it should be, in that it did not provide sufficient training for the inevitable success or for the post.

The writer had a rather intimate but limited acquaintance with the members of the police force four years ago, and it is his considered judgment that there are at least six men in that group who are qualified and deserve the most ser-

Mexican Magnates

Forecast Another

Raid for Majors
Mexico City, April 2 (AP)—Mexico League President Jorge Pasquel believes he has another little bombshell in the making for the major leagues.

Quite pleased over his acquisition of Mickey Owen, Vern Stephens and three New York Giants' players in the past few days, the dapper baseball magnate declared yesterday that two or three other big leaguers soon will be playing in his circuit.

He declined to name them but said they should be here next week.

With his eight clubs already stocked with 17 former major leaguers, Pasquel indicated that he soon will bring an end to his raising for the current season.

The Mexico League presently limits each of its eight teams to eight foreign players but with the recent additions and the few more expected shortly it was believed that the ceiling would be raised.

Besides the Americans, the circuit has many diamond luminaries from Cuba, Salvador, Panama and other Latin American countries.

Kingston Bird Captures

Race From Weehawken

Traveling at a rate of 1,100 yards per minute, a pigeon owned by John Boice of this city captured the Kingston Homing Pigeon's Club race Saturday. A total of 32 birds were entered in the race and their starting point was Weehawken, N. J.

Boice's pigeon, a red-checked cock which was bred from local pigeon's finished the race despite the strong winds. The pigeon was bleeding at the mouth at the finish as well.

Capturing second place was Jack Durham's bird which traveled the distance at a clip of 900 yards a minute and third place was taken by George Caddy's pigeon coming in at 500 yards a minute.

Joseph Moultrie, president of the local organization, announced Monday that some of the birds were still arriving.

Similar races will be held every Saturday until late September. Next week's jaunt will be an 80 mile race.

Other officers of the club are George Caddy, secretary and Joe Simon, treasurer.

Russians Will Not Discuss Food in London Meeting

London, April 2 (AP)—Barring word to the contrary from Moscow, the Soviet Union will not be represented when delegates from 15 nations convene here in emergency session tomorrow to discuss the European cereal supply problem.

A conference spokesman announced last night that Russia had rejected without explanation an invitation to attend. She has been asked to reconsider, the spokesman added, and a reply is being awaited.

Army Wants 500 Teachers to Serve in Japan, Korea

Tokyo, April 2 (AP)—High salaries, low living costs and the chance to see a foreign country are the inducements with which the army hopes to lure 500 civilian teachers from the United States to Japan and Korea.

Col. R. G. Gard, chief of the information and education section of the Pacific forces, said the teachers are needed to conduct a training program for enlisted men, starting in July. Training would range from the literacy level through junior college in academic, commercial and trade subjects.

TIDAL WAVE HITS HONOLULU HARBOR

This is a pre-war view of Honolulu Harbor, where gigantic waves were reported to have done heavy damage. At this point the tide was reported to have risen 10 feet above the normal high tide mark and flooded waterfront warehouses and stores. (AP Wirephoto).

Tidal Wave Toll Might Reach 300

said the vast length of such waves, from crest to crest, would enable vessels to ride them out without difficulty.

The waves piled up into terrifying walls of water as they reached the coastlines, however, and Ketchikan, Alaska, reported a 100-foot wave had swept Scotch Cap light-house from the Aleutian Island of Unimak with an estimated loss of 10 lives.

Tokyo reported no disturbance of any sort.

At East Island, on French Frigate Shoal, 450 miles northwest of Honolulu, the giant seas swept clear over the island, the Coast Guard said. There was no word of the island's little naval garrison.

In sheltered Honolulu, on the leeward side of Oahu Island, army, navy, territorial and federal relief agencies mobilized hastily for one of the greatest disaster-relief jobs in Hawaiian history.

Honolulu's leeward location sheltered the luxury hotels of Waikiki beach and left naval shipping in landlocked Pearl Harbor undamaged.

Hilo, exposed to the full force of the waves, was a scene of horror. Weeping friends and relatives waited on high ground as troops in the wrecked waterfront recovered bodies.

Buildings were crushed and ripped apart; huge gaps were pushed through thick concrete walls, and there was a sprawling litter of what had been railroad cars, automobiles, trucks, buildings and boats.

Army patrols guarded against looting, although martial law had not been declared.

Nathaniel Gets View

A chance telephone call at 6 a. m. aroused Dan Nathaniel, Jr., who then got one of the clearest views of the Hilo disaster. He noticed that the sea had receded unbelievably, leaving the ocean bed in front of his cottage almost dry.

"Then it came, in nine waves. I ran out, and it caught me. Waves were over the railroad bridge, 50 feet above the normal streambed."

Tossed on the raging crests, he grasped a store marquee and managed to cling there until the waters receded.

Two ships were caught by the giant waves in Hilo's harbor. The anchor cable snapped immediately on the freighter William B. Hoxie and the vessel was tossed up on the beach. The Brigham Victory managed to reach the open sea and ride out the waves safely.

Rescue efforts were hampered by battered communications lines, and a truck with a loudspeaker cruised the area, asking that names of the missing be telephoned to police headquarters to facilitate the search.

Teachers Are Lost

C. R. Ferdun, school principal at Laupahoehoe, 25 miles northwest of Hilo, said the missing there included three American teachers.

He named them as Faye Johnson, Vinton, Va.; Dorothy Drake Columbus, O.; and Helen Kingseed, Sidney, O.

Cottages in which they lived were swept to sea or hurled into piles of debris inland.

On Oahu, two navy men swept to sea from Kaneohe Naval Air Station were rescued. Two army men reported missing off Koko Head were washed ashore on logs.

Rushed to a hospital, they were reported in a serious condition.

The horror of the tidal wave was the suddenness with which it swept in from the sea and surged without warning over lowlands.

Most people were just getting out of bed or were at breakfast.

Children drowned in their beds. Adults died trying to fight clear of the boiling waters. Some who saw the waves coming and tried to reach high ground were caught and dragged back into the swirling tide.

Hilo poured pleas for air-sea rescue help into fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor throughout the night as searchers tried to find men, women and children washed out to sea. Two Navy marauders and a Navy patrol plane were ordered into the air search at dawn in the Hilo area and other planes were sent from Maui.

A Navy sea-air rescue flying boat picked up four men from the water off northern Hawaii at dusk last evening, but had to sit out the night awaiting surface craft. Its propellers idling, the ship was headed into the heavy swells, which made the water too rough for a takeoff.

Scientist Explains Action

Pasadena, Calif., April 2 (AP)—Here's a seismologist's explanation of the tidal wave, from Dr. Charles F. Richter of California Institute of Technology.

"The wave seemed somewhat out of proportion to the shock itself."

"Apparently conditions of earth-motion, the locality, depth of water at the point of the shock and other factors caused an unduly heavy wave, which fanned outward, probably traveling as fast as 400 mph in deep water."

There were indications the earthquake, first registering here at 7:38 a. m. (E.S.T.) yesterday, may have had its epicenter in the Aleutian Deep, which at places plunges 15,000 feet below the ocean's surface.

Dr. Richter added that such phenomena are not uncommon after submarine quakes and this particular one was only moderate in strength.

Chile Gets Wave

Touque, Chile, April 2 (AP)—A 100-foot tidal wave struck this north Chilean port early today, destroying several boats and causing panic among 300 inhabitants of the Cavancha peninsula. No casualties were reported, and damage on the mainland was slight.

Peninsula residents, with the aid of taxis, were moved to higher ground. The waters receded in about an hour.

Considerable enthusiasm is being evidenced in this new statewide police training program and Sheriff Smith states that he has already contacted the various police agencies in Ulster and Greene counties and that every one has indicated a desire to attend and actively participate.

The following schedule has been approved by F.B.I. Chief John Edgar Hoover:

Chaplains Asked To Preserve Morals Of Troops in Japan

Tokyo, April 2 (AP)—General MacArthur called upon Army chaplains in Japan today to "exert strong and direct moral leadership" over occupation troops, declaring that some Americans feared there was "widespread, promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character."

"On several occasions, I have taken the opportunity to commend publicly the high standard maintained by our forces engaged in the occupation, and I have seen nothing to discount that view," MacArthur said. "I have, however, recently received letters from American homes expressing grave concern and deep distress over published reports suggestive of an existing widespread promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character."

The Allied commander said measures had been taken to curb prostitution and to provide troops with healthy recreation, but that moral leadership also was necessary.

An order banning all social contact with the Japanese people would be useless, MacArthur added.

The Southerners held a closed meeting and adopted a resolution specifically demanding a retraction of statements made in the April issue of the Democratic Digest, official organ of the women's division of the party.

The publication's statement which aroused the Southerners was this:

"And let your representatives know that the passage of the Restrictive case (labor disputes) bill was a vote against American People."

Thunderstorm Hits Kingston April 1, Snow, Rain, Sleet

Kingston was enveloped with a variety of weather the first of April when snow, rain and sleet fell, and during the evening a thunder and lightning storm broke over the city.

During the afternoon rain and snow fell intermittently and during the early evening the rain changed to sleet, and nearly an inch covered sidewalks and streets. Before the sleet had the opportunity of freezing to the roads and sidewalks the weather moderated and rain began falling. The storm continued in progress until about midnight.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 29 to a high of 40 degrees.

The lowest temperature recorded last night was 37 degrees, and at 5 o'clock this morning the official thermometer was registering 50 degrees, and indications were it would be even warmer during the afternoon.

A glance at the record shows that April 1, 1945, temperatures in the city ranged from 48 to 75 degrees, while April 2, a thunder and lightning storm broke over the city while temperatures ranged from 53 to 63 degrees.

Bogert Says Fears Are Speculation

Established for the super-highway at the present time are located in the area between Catskill and Saugerties, Mr. Bogert revealed.

Original plans are subject to drastic changes, depending upon the findings of foundation drillings, investigations and other factors connected with road building, he added.

The over-all original plans already have been changed once, but the State Department of Highways is sticking to its original blueprint of by-passing all large cities and towns and congested traffic channels along the route.

Priority Affects Plans
The heavy priority established for the veterans housing program will seriously affect the original schedule of construction, the highway engineer predicted.

"The State Department has mapped out an extensive program of repairs, improvements and additions to existing highways, but the so-called 'new projects' will have to wait their turn," Mr. Bogert said. "Because of the tight housing situation, the State Department will try to keep at a minimum any interference with labor and material required for the housing program."

Food Gouges Protested

Mexicans are being "robbed blind" by sellers of some food items, according to a group of Mexico City residents who are organizing to exhort the citizens to rise in protest. Principal items mentioned on which the public has been squeezed by poor quality and high prices are, first, sesame oil which is claimed to be being sold in place of olive oil and at the same price, and, second, so-called coffee. This latter product, the protesters claim, is only a mixture of garbanzo, toasted beans, and bread and tortillas treated in some manner.

April 2, 1946, by Mayor Edelmuth, Chief Phinney and the Board of Police Commissioners that the conduct of the police force in the recent years was not what it should be, in that it did not provide sufficient training for the inevitable success or for the post.

The writer had a rather intimate but limited acquaintance with the members of the police force four years ago, and it is his considered judgment that there are at least six men in that group who are qualified and deserve the most serious consideration for the position of chief of police.
